YORKLAND News

Issue 01 / Oct 2020

Dear Parent,

With utmost pleasure, kindly allow me to share the first official newsletter with the warmest greeting from our Yorkland to you. This actual site has been in operation for the past 6 years under a different name. I am very much excited to be given the opportunity to start fresh with a much bigger hope and dreams in nurturing each child at Yorkland.

Lantern Festival

This year due to RMCO, we could not celebrate our annual Lantern Festival with parents. Yet, to make it up celebrated Lantern Festival with children where they get to make their mooncake.

This round of the year, we made 4 different colour combo. First is blue where it's right from our garden's butterfly pea flower. Where prior to the celebration day, our children picked 'blue flower' during their outside play and passed it on to Aunty Anny, who processed into a natural coloured food dye. The second colour is bushy green again from our garden has grown pandan leaves. The third colour is pink where the colour is excreted naturally from dragon fruit. The last fourth colour is plain natural white.

On the morning of the celebration day, the children gathered to make their snow skin mooncakes. Each child will make 2 mini mooncakes. First, they flatten the outside skin layer with their hand and then place the lotus and pandan paste in its middle. Then the skin will be wrapped around the paste and the mixture is rolled into a ball. Lastly, they will press their round mooncakes into the mould they choose and their individual mooncakes will be done!

Later in noon, the big children and teachers packed the colourful mini mooncakes to be taken home together with their handmade lantern.

All their lanterns were designed from our children's individual painting. Children creatively trace then cut the shapes of stars where it's posted on over colourful papers. And for the handle, our children learnt the secret special way of twirling wool ["gulu-gulu" string]. Not forgetting on how they went awestruck with the storytelling where teachers narrated the legendary story on Hau Yi and Cheng Er!

Yorkland Garden Grown Stories

Peanuts, also known as groundnut is grown at our Yorkland's garden. Peanut is a good source of healthful fats, protein, and fibre. It's a very interesting plant as the flowers beads above the ground meanwhile the pods containing the seeds grow within the soil. Our children witness the growth of the peanut plants and enjoy getting their hands dirty by harvesting it together with teachers and friends.

On the other side, we have also planted off some Mountain Spring Onion.

Now with our young farmers, we are trying to plant and grow corns at our vegetable bed. Children get to water them during outside playtime.

Recently, we made a new Rabbit hutch.

Upcoming Events

Graduation

October has been rather quite a busy month for the 6 big children. In a week's time, it would be their graduation on the 6th of November [Friday]. Our 6 children graduating are Enabella, How Xuen, Kobe, Ocean, Yee Shyi and Zhen Yu. Our children are busy rehearsing for the big day, consisting of speech and songs plus practising their dance steps with their very musical instruments of colourful crepe papers. The younger children watching their seniors are equally enthusiastic and supportive in the rehearsals.

We invite only the parents of the graduating children to join us on this day. Please refer to the programme and song sheet attached.

Deepavali the Festival of Lights

In our upcoming celebration of Deepavali at Yorkland, we shall decorate and storytime on Festivals of Lights to the children. We would merrily sing Deepavali songs together. On this day, the morning snack would be a special treat consisting of Indian cookies "muruku" made by Aunty Anny. It would be double the celebration if our children are suited with traditional Indian costumes if they may pose any.

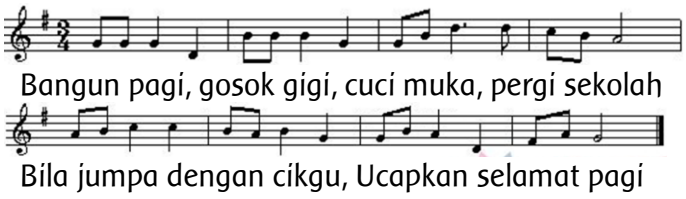
Bangun pagi



1] 我是一颗小种子
落在一片青草地
爸爸就像大太阳
给我满满的力量
妈妈就像小雨水
不断滋养我长大

2] 我是一棵小树苗
来到一个小乐园
朋友就像彩虹般
相亲相爱乐融融
红橙黄绿蓝靛紫
歌声幽幽永不止
老师就像和风吹
吹走伤心的眼泪
吹来欢乐的笑声

3] 我是强壮的小树
风吹雨打都不怕
小鸟蝴蝶来我家
我便伸手帮助它
我要张开我双手
迎接更多的朋友
一天一天的长大
努力向上不害怕

4] 感谢爸爸和妈妈
细心呵护我长大
让我勇敢不害怕
感谢老师和朋友
天天陪伴我左右
让我勇敢向前走

I am a star (poem)

I am a star
From heaven I came
To earth below
My friends to meet
To be truthful in deed
To love all I know
To walk with my angel
And to shine like…A STAR!

我是明亮的星星
我从天上来
降临到人间
遇见真诚的朋友
我诚实行事
爱我所知
与我的天使同行
并且像星星一样 发亮

Aku bintang
Dari syurga
Ku ke bumi
Bertemu dengan kawanku
Sentiasa tulus hati
Kasihi semua
Seiring dengan Malaikatku
Dan bersinar seperti BINTANG!
